My dream of being a professional photographer began in high school. I pursued my career interest by attending Alvin Community College where I learned the basics of black & white photography. I really enjoyed those classes and decided to further my education. Attending Oklahoma School of Photography was an experience of a lifetime for me. I learned so much and became a better photographer. My training included theory and practical hands-on experience in a wide variety of photographic techniques that incorporated both traditional film and digital media. Graduating with superior attendance and receiving my diploma in photography/lab techniques is an accomplishment that makes me proud.

My future plans include working in the exciting and challenging field of sports action photography with emphasis on rodeo and ranch photography. Growing up around ranching and livestock gives me unique insight, which allows me to create images that have a genuine look. While employed by Barker Photography, I discovered that I also enjoy working in a studio environment and would like to continue that type of photography. My portraits stand out because I incorporate interesting props that portray the subject's personal interests.
